

THE OFFICE FOR UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH

Fall 2013 Workshop Series

Taking the First Steps

Thursday, October 3, 2013

5:00-6:30 p.m.

Student Union 3411

Are you interested in conducting undergraduate research? Are you curious about how to get started? Do you want to know more about the opportunities and resources available? Come hear from student Ambassadors, OUR staff, and Liaisons for Undergraduate Research about their experiences, advice and guidance. There will be lots of time for Q&A!! Cosponsored by the Student Government Academic Affairs Committee.

The Office for Undergraduate Research is partnering with the House Undergraduate Library and The Writing Center for two sessions of the UL's Fall .eDU Series:

Unlocking Abstracts

Tuesday, September 24, 2013

11:30 a.m.-12:00 p.m.

House Undergraduate Library Room 124

Tackle a Literature Review

Monday, October 28, 2013

7:00-8:30 p.m.

House Undergraduate Library Room 124

Research Methodology: Community-Based Research

Thursday, November 7, 2013

5:00-6:30 p.m.

Location: Graham Memorial 039

Do you plan to conduct research during your undergraduate career here at Carolina? Are you interested in investigating a community need through that research? In this interactive workshop, Professor Beth Moracco will lead a discussion about what is involved in doing research with human subjects, the principles and methodologies of community-based and community-based participatory research, and the kinds of research questions for which these methodologies would be appropriate. Come ready to talk about your interests and to brainstorm how to turn them into undergraduate research projects. Cosponsored by the Carolina Center for Public Service. Note: This workshop will count as a skills training for the Buckley Public Service Scholars program.